his life when he walked in one house, and there was a rattlesnake on the counter. He did not see him because he wouldn't return my calls. Photo Courtesy: Bruce Mars/Pexels I got statements from the husband/father and wife/mother but no statements from the five children because they were all under 10. His truck got stuck, the water levels rose, so he decided to just report the truck stolen. The supervisor handed him a shotgun and steel-toe boots as soon as he got to the site and told him that he "ain't expected, asked or wanted in any place first." They moved from house to house in teams, and there was a sort of point-man that entered first. I had to send in all of my bank account statements and credit card statements. The husband and wife deny ever being in a prior claim, and both the husband/wife and the witness deny knowing each other prior to the accident. Photo Courtesy: Pixabay/Pexels Cue a $200,000 insurance claim from smoke damage through the entire house, replacing wooden floors from water and fire damage, repainting the whole house, replacing all the kitchen appliances, etc. So, he gave them to the insured and left. If this is an insurance claim for another reason like home owner's insurance, for example, you'll need to call an insurance adjuster to come to your home. Insurance claims adjusters have heard it all, but some things simply aren't covered. Everything was water damaged. However, she didn't remember where she had it towed, and we had to call all over town to track it down. Earlier in the year, we had just finished building our second house when we had a fire in it. Directions for submitting claims are included on the forms. Both had all the interiors cut up, silver spray paint all over the dash, broken glass and torn roof lining. You can ask about filing weekly claim benefits. As a bonus, they paid to have it installed since it was installed when it was destroyed, which is kind of cool. Photo Courtesy: ELEVATE/Pexels You see, after the accident, a good Samaritan stopped to see if he was okay. There were cans of food that had rusted out and had rotting contents spilling out. Photo Courtesy: Arthur Ogleznev/Pexels We did the quote on the cars, the Q7 was touching 30 grand, and the Ute was about 10. ~ NurumThere Is a Reason for Security OfficersOne day, an unsatisfied customer came to the firm with an auto bumper in his hands. It turned out the husband and wife were making a living off of phantom vehicle claims by filing UMBI and med pay claims for themselves and all five children on a roughly four-month cycle. It was apparently his employers' fault, according to his solicitors. Since the job was small, the jeweler kept the ring overnight, performed the repair and didn't charge the woman for the job when she came back to pick it up. One of the claws holding the stone was bent out, and she wanted to get it repaired. Photo Courtesy: Jeswin Thomas/Pexels ~ westside*What a Considerate ThiefWhen I worked auto claims, I had this lovely older lady make a claim that one of her bridge partners – another older lady – was jealous of her new tires and had her son steal the tires from her car. It was a shame the turkey didn't wait until Thanksgiving. You can take pictures and gather evidence for your insurance claim, as well. The rims on the car were fine, and he told me, "No, it's the ones in the backseat. ~ FriendlyManCubParanormal Activity Is Covered, Right?We had someone claim a poltergeist had destroyed their furniture. Photo Courtesy: pen_ash/Pixabay ~ redorangeblueWhen Insurance Fraud Doesn't Quite Pan Out as ExpectedI got a quote on a customer's cars, an Audi Q7 and a V8 sport utility vehicle that were both vandalized.
